St. JOHN's (in Antigua) July 8.

On Saturday laſt the members for the town of St. John, attended by ſeveral of the principal merchants and traders, waited upon his Excellency General THOMAS, at his houſe in the country, and, in the name of the whole trade of the iſland, preſented his Excellency with the following addreſs.

To his Excellency GEORGE THOMAS, Eſq; Captain-General of the Leeward Caribbee Iſlands, Chancellor, Vice Admiral, and Ordinary of the ſame, &c.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,

WE the merchants and traders of the town of St. John, in the iſland of Antigua, beg leave to wait upon your Excellency with our warmeſt and moſt ſincere congratulations on his Majeſty's continuation of your Excellency's government.

His royal confirmation of your commiſſion has relieved us from the pain and anxiety of doubt, to which we could not but yield, when we gratefully reflected upon the paſt happineſs of your adminiſtration; and alarmed ourſelves with the apprehenſion of ſome unhappy accident that might too ſoon have put a period to it.

His Majeſty's goodneſs in graciouſly extending his protection to the properties of his ſubjects in this diſtant part of his dominions, would have been incompleat, had not the ſame paternal care provided for the ſecurity of their liberty, in appointing a Governor over us whoſe ability could diſcern, and whoſe humanity could delight in, the true welfare of thoſe under his command.

From the full and undiſturbed enjoyment of both theſe invaluable bleſſings, reſults all that happineſs that the freeſt people can receive from their Governor.

The ſteady regard to juſtice that has ſo eminently diſtinguiſhed your Excellency's adminiſtration, has been felt in its influence over all orders of men among us; and with pleaſure and gratitude we ſee and acknowledge your impartial attention to the commercial intereſt of your government, and that the merchant and planter equally enjoy the benefit of your care and protection.

Warmed with the trueſt ſenſe of theſe benefits, permit us, Sir, to contend with the foremoſt in zeal and attachment to your Excellency's perſon; to offer the unfeigned wiſhes of our hearts, that your Excellency may long continue to make us happy under your government, and late receive, in another life, the patriot's reward for having deſerved well of mankind, in communicating happineſs in this.

GENTLEMEN,

I Return you my hearty thanks for your very obliging and affectionate addreſs.

Next to the inward ſatisfaction of having done my beſt for the ſecurity and happineſs of the People under my government, is that of finding that my endeavours have been graciouſly received by his Majeſty, and gratefully acknowledged by ſo conſiderable a body, as that of the merchants and traders of this Iſland.

The planting and trading intereſts are ſo intimately connected, that I ſhould be wanting in duty to his Majeſty's great example, if I did not equally and impartially extend my care and protection to both.

LONDON, May 28.

The following Declaration of the French King to the Court of Sweden, delivered by his Ambaſſador at Stockholm, on the 4th of February, ſeems to have laid the foundation of the negociations which have ſince been carried on for aſſembling a Congreſs; and is in itſelf a State-Paper of ſome Importance.

THE Moſt Chriſtian King, moved by the calamities of war, which are every where ſufficiently known, thinks it his indiſpenſable duty to inform his allies, and particularly the King and Crown of Sweden, that his humanity, as well as his regard to that nation in particular over whom he reigns, makes him deſirous that all his allies would concur with him in reſtoring peace to Europe.

"As to the adjuſting of the differences which concern France and Great-Britain only, his Majeſty will abundantly ſhew his moderation on that head, when Great-Britain diſcovers any diſpoſition to liſten to reaſonable Terms.

"For which reaſon, his Majeſty is principally deſirous to lay before his very faithful allies his ſentiments of the German war; both as a guarantee of the peace of Weſtphalia jointly with the Crown of Sweden, and relative to the treaties and engagements he hath entered into with the Empreſs Queen, the Empreſs of Ruſſia, and the King of Sweden.

"In the courſe of this war, his Moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, and the Crown of Sweden, have done their utmoſt to perform the obligations of their guaranty, both with regard to the ſupport of the three religions eſtabliſhed in the Empire, and to the neceſſary meaſures for oppoſing, with a ſufficient force, the invaſions of the Pruſſians, and weakening the King of Pruſſia ſo much, as to leave no room to apprehend his future enterprizes.

"Nothing now remains to complete the full diſcharge of thoſe obligations, but to procure indemnification to his Majeſty the King of Poland and the Empreſs Queen. On this head, his Majeſty applies, with the utmoſt frankneſs, to the King and Crown of Sweden, and to his other Allies, in order to ſettle thoſe indemnifications on a ſolid footing, and to conſult together on the nature of them, and the poſſibility of their being obtained. And on this occaſion his Majeſty thinks it indiſpenſably neceſſary to conſider how far the indemnifications demanded may be conſiſtent with the intereſt of the Guarantees of the treaty of Weſtphalia, as that treaty doth not oblige them to ſacrifice the eſſential intereſts of their own dominions to procure ſuch ample indemnification as the injured Powers may think themſelves entitled to claim.

"However ſacred the engagements his Majeſty hath entered into may be, ſtill they are ſubject to the natural laws of poſſibility. As ſoon as the ſecurity ſought appears to be an object not near, the Allied Powers ought to communicate to one another their inmoſt thoughts, in order to their taking in concert, without breach of their engagements, a reſolution to put an end, by a treaty of peace, to the calamities of war; and to prefer the welfare of their ſubjects to the glory and advantages they may derive from continuing the war, eſpecially as experience hath too often ſhewn, that the moſt juſt, and the beſt concerted ſchemes, have, in an inſtant, been defeated by the caprice of Fortune.

"In the preſent ſituation of the Alliance, the King is of opinion, that common humanity, and a regard to the general welfare, require his Allies to concert with him a plan of pacification, to which all the Members of the Alliance may give their conſent; and to labour to ſtrengthen, if poſſible, the bands of Alliance between France, the King and Crown of Sweden, the Empreſs Queen, and the Empreſs of Ruſſia.

"His Majeſty doth not think it poſſible for the events of the enſuing campaign to change the ſituation of the alliance. An accumulation of diſtreſs to unhappy ſubjects, an additional depopulation of countries, the impoveriſhment of the finances of ſeveral Powers, and the greateſt doubt, whether, after all theſe diſaſters and calamities, a peace can be made in Germany more advantageous to the Powers in the Alliance, than at preſent; all theſe things induce the King to declare, that he is conſtrained to leſſen his ſubſidies, and that the proſecution of the war hath conſiderably diminiſhed the ſources of his finances; ſo that his Majeſty cannot promiſe, in caſe the war ſhould continue, an exact compliance with the letter of his engagements.

"The ſum of the whole is, That in return for the confidence which his Majeſty expreſſes towards the Crown of Sweden, that crown would immediately declare its ſentiments on this head; and that the King of Sweden, animated by a zeal equal to his Majeſty's, for the welfare of Europe, would conſent to ſacrifice his perſonal intereſts, as his Moſt Chriſtian Majeſty is determined to do; being otherwiſe firmly reſolved, in caſe the enemies of the alliance ſhould refuſe to enter into his pacific views, to employ, jointly with his faithful allies, his whole force to compel them to it; and he earneſtly entreats his allies to redouble their efforts, to put themſelves in a ſituation ſuitable to their natural ſtrength, and the great object in view."

Two days after the delivery of this memorial, the King of Sweden gave for anſwer, That it was his intention to join with the Moſt Chriſtian King, and his other allies, in proper meaſures for bringing to a happy concluſion the ſalutary work of peace.

May 30. We learn from Holland, that a little while ago the Narden waggon was ſtopped by the French, who took out of it a large ſum of money and other effects. The Dutch ambaſſador at Paris preſented a memorial, demanding reſtitution. The French miniſter at the Hague hath ſince repreſented to the States-General, "That the King his maſter was ſurprized that they ſhould reclaim money which could be undeniably proved to be deſigned for the allied army; that it had indeed been ſeized on the territory of the Republic; and therefore, when their High Mightineſſes ſhould give his Majeſty ſatisfaction for the outrages and damages ſuffered by his ſubjects from the Engliſh, on the Dutch territory, particularly in the affair of the Felicite frigate, his Majeſty would give them juſt ſatisfaction, being deſirous that their High Mightineſſes ſhould enjoy the benefits of their neutrality in the full extent; and that in the mean time he would reſtore all the merchandizes belonging to the ſubjects of the Republic, which were taken out of the waggon."

Extract of a letter from a merchant at Theſſalonica, the capital of Macedonia, to his Friend in London.

"Conſiderable havock has been made here by the plague, but it is now pretty well over; but, what with the earthquake of laſt year, the rumbling noiſes ſtill heard, and ſeveral ſevere ſhocks which happen almoſt every day, the country is become deſolate, and the beſt part of this magnificent city laid in ruins. It is a moſt diſmal ſight, to behold ſtately palaces, and noble buildings levelled with the ground, beſides numbers of perſons of various quality, that are buried in the ruins, and the ſtench of whoſe carcaſes occaſioned the additional misfortune of the above-mentioned plague; the latter, however, being, thank God, now abated, numbers of perſons are employed in removing the rubbiſh, in order to recover their jewels and other valuable effects. The Baſhaw and principal inhabitants are likewiſe doing all they can to reſtore things to their former order. Yeſterday we were terribly alarmed by a prodigious ball of fire, which roſe from the earth in the S. E. part of the city, and directed its courſe horizontally towards the weſt, where entering a dark black cloud, it burſt with a prodigious loud noiſe, attended with thunder, and flaſhes of Fire: This was followed by ſo violent a ſhower of rain, that it threatened a ſecond deluge. God preſerve us, my dear friend, amidſt this complication of troubles!"

June 4. The politicians at Amſterdam are clear that peace is at no great diſtance. They reaſon thus: The Ruſſians have not found their account in the war; the Swedes have been plainly told by their allies, that they muſt ſit down with their loſſes; France is abſolutely weary of fighting other people's battles, at her own expence; and though ambition and revenge may ſtill maintain their empire at a certain court, they muſt ſpeedily diſcover, that territories exhauſted, and finances embarraſſed, muſt make way for another ſpirit, and diſpoſe them to be quiet, at leaſt for a time, until new alliances can be pieced together.

There never was a more brilliant birth-day than this, both ladies and gentlemen ſeeming to vye with each other who ſhould make the moſt ſplendid appearance. Such an amazing number of jewels which the ladies wore, as noſegays in their boſoms, &c. were ſcarce ever before collected at one time. Moſt of their clothes were gold and ſilver brocades, ſome of which coſt ſeven guineas a yard.

June 13, It is ſaid that the Grand Signior has actually wrote a letter to the king of Pruſſia, wherein he aſſures him of his utmoſt aſſiſtance to bring the two Empreſſes to reaſon, and obtain him an honourable peace; for which purpoſe he had 100,000 men ready to take the field, which were immediately to begin their operations againſt the Ruſſians; and if that was not ſufficient, he would put himſelf at the head of 100,000 more, and march into the Empreſs queen's dominions.

Letters from Dantzick, by way of Hamburgh, adviſe, that an order was come to the General of the grand Ruſſian army, to ſend 40,000 men back, on account of the Turks having unexpectedly entered the Ukraine.

June 18. They write from Stockholm, that ſince the liberty of the preſs was reſtored, many political pieces have appeared, ſome of which are written with a great deal of good ſenſe and vivacity. One of theſe is intituled, "The benefits derived to Sweden from the preſent war;" which, according to him, are theſe three: The firſt is, that it has opened the eyes of the people, and taught them that real Freedom is as little to be found under the dominion of faction as under deſpotiſm. The ſecond, that a nation, weak and impoveriſhed, ought to mind her own affairs, and not hope for deliverance from conqueſts and ſubſidies. The laſt is, that the Swedes will purſue their own intereſts for the future, inſtead of taking political leſſons from a foreign ambaſſador.

We hear from Genoa, that the Senate hath fixed upon ſeven of their principal noblemen to finally ſettle the embroiled affairs of Corſica, and it is hoped they will ſucceed, notwithſtanding the deſperate reſolution of the malecontents, who, upon hearing this news, vowed eternal war, blood, and deſtruction. It is now no longer a myſtery, that the unfortunate king Theodore was actuated by a ſpirit of knight errantry, and his nephew Paoli is prompted by ambition and intereſt, on which account the Genoeſe will not forget to ſatisfy him in every reſpect.

A letter from an officer under the walls of Palais, dated May 29, mentions, that they had had rains for a week paſt, which plagued them much; no leſs than 54 mortars and 36 cannon had been uſed in playing on the place, which was inconceivably ſtrong; and that too much could not be ſaid in favour of the General, who, during the whole ſiege, had ſhewn himſelf quite indefatigable, and always continued 12 hours out of the 24 in the trenches.

Laſt Sunday about 250 workmen were, in conſequence of ſome urgent demands, employed upon tin-boats, of a new conſtruction, in examining ſhells, cleaning bombs, and all the other branches of the ordnance.

An expreſs is gone to Belleiſle, with inſtructions to General Hodgſon, for the preſent regulation of the government of that important acquiſition, and by the ſame veſſel ſeveral medicinal cheſts, with ſome ſurgeons, &c. are gone. It is further ſaid, that a letter of thanks, ſigned by his majeſty, is alſo gone there, with an order for the ſame to be read at the head of the ſeveral corps upon that iſland, and a like letter to the gentlemen, &c. of the navy.

Yeſterday a man, who appeared too inquiſitive in meaſuring ſome of the cannon at the tower, &c. was taken into cuſtody by the centinel, in order to give an account of himſelf.

We hear the grand expedition fleet fitting out at Portſmouth, is to join that of commodore Keppel off Belleiſle, in order to fruſtrate any deſigns forming by the French men of war at Breſt and Rochefort, which, according to ſeveral reports, were ready to put to ſea upon ſome great enterprize.

Other reports ſay, that Dunkirk is the object of our ſecond expedition, and that ſeveral ſmall fleets will ſail to other places, and make deſcents on various parts of the French coaſts, ſo as to oblige them to withdraw their troops from Germany.

At his firſt leaving France, his "Court had diſpatched an Expreſs to Vienna, to inform "the Empreſs, that Mr. Buſſy was charged with ſuch "Propoſals of Peace, which, if the Engliſh accepted, and "ſhe did not chooſe to accede to, they would make a ſe-"parate Peace."

Byrd, with the Virginia Forces, was at his old Camp, on the Waters of the Great Kanawa, with no great Plenty of Proviſions, and but ill ſupplied with Carriages; but that the North-Carolina Regiment, of 500 Men, was compleat, and would march to join him, as ſoon as they could be ſupplied with Arms: That the Creeks were under Apprehenſions of a Body of Spaniards being ſent againſt them from St. Auguſtine, to revenge ſome Miſchief received from them: And that the Enemy's Privateers had been very troubleſome on that Coaſt; but that the Captains Campbell and Greenwood, in two of His Majeſty's Ships, were to go out on a Cruize againſt them.

That ſacred Joy, which from Compaſſion flows:
Well pleas'd to ſooth the Mourner in Diſtreſs,
An Eye to pity, and a Hand to bleſs:
Bleſt with that generous Virtue let me live,
That ſtrives to eaſe the Pang, and not to give:
To the griev'd Mind, that does a Joy impart,
And draws the Anguiſh from the aching Heart.
Pleas'd the dry Lip with balmy Draughts to meet,
And make the bitter Cup of Life more ſweet.

This opens ſuch a delightful Proſpect of the extenſive Good that will be reaped by Multitudes, if your Funds can be made adequate to the Neceſſities for them, that I can but hope it muſt have a very ſenſible Effect upon every benevolent Heart.---Shall I tell you that it makes me ready to wiſh my Ability to give was equal to my Inclination? I aſſure you, if that was the Caſe, you ſhould receive herewith a conſiderable Addition to the ſmall Matter I have already given.----I, however, have the Satisfaction of deſiring to do more Good than is, at preſent, within the Reach of my Capacity, and one Proof of it is, that I ſincerely wiſh the Miſerly and Selfiſh Part of our Species would but taſte of the Pleaſures that ariſe from beneficent Senſations; ſurely it would make them capable of much greater Degrees of Happineſs than they now can have any Idea of. "If there are Men who cannot feel the Delight "of giving Happineſs to others, I ſincerely pity them, as "they are incapable of taſting what is, in my Opinion, a "greater Honour, a higher Intereſt, and a ſweeter Plea"ſure, than the ambitious, the avaritious, or the volup"tuous Man can ever obtain."

The Deſcription which our great Poet Milton gives, of the various Diſtempers that attend us, is ſo ſtriking, that you muſt have often taken Notice of it; yet I cannot reſiſt the Inclination of laying it before you again, and I do it the rather, becauſe, in Proportion to the Affliction which ſuch Sights occaſion, is the Pleaſure of contributing what lies in our Power, towards the Relief of Fellow-beings in thoſe wretched Circumſtances.

----------Immediatly a Place
Before his Eyes appear'd, ſad, noiſom, dark,
A Lazar-houſe it ſeem'd, wherein were laid
Numbers of all diſeas'd, all Maladies
Of ghaſtly Spaſm, or racking Torture, Qualms
Of Heart-ſick Agony, all feav'rous Kinds,
Convulſions, Epilepſies, fierce Catarrhs,
Inteſtine Stone, and Ulcer, Colic Pangs,
Dæmoniac Phrenzy, moaping Melancholy
And Moon-ſtruck Madneſs, pining Atrophy,
Marasmus, and wide waſting Peſtilence,
Dropſies, and Aſthma's, and Joint-racking Rheums.
Dire was the Toſſing, deep the Groans, Deſpair
Tended the Sick, buſieſt from Couch to Couch;
And over them triumphant Death his Dart
Shook, but delay'd to ſtrike, though oft invok'd
With Vows, as their chief Good, and final Hope.

Your Narrative gave me an additional Pleaſure, which may, perhaps, eſcape ſome who are not ſo much inclined to Speculation; it was that of obſerving the Names of Men of all Parties, both with reſpect to Religion and Politicks, joining their generous Endeavours to promote this highly rational Deſign-----So that we have now a Scheme, which unites Numbers, who differ in many other Reſpects. In meditating on this Theme, probably, ſay I to myſelf, when Death rends the Veil of human Errors, and we ſee every thing in its proper Light, we may perceive ſo many accidental Cauſes for our differing in Opinions, which are hid from us here, and may ſo fully comprehend the Bent and Deſire of each others Hearts to be chiefly after the ſupreme Good, that many, whoſe Sentiments are now oppoſite, may then moſt cordially embrace as Brethren, and harmoniouſly join in the bleſſed Employment of the heavenly Hoſt! You will here, probably, fear that I am growing too ſerious; but how is it poſſible to be actuated by Benevolence, and not look to its ultimate Completion? What I meant, when I ſat down to write, was to aſſure you of my beſt Wiſhes and Endeavours for the Succeſs of the Hoſpital. One likely Means to promote which, I think would be, frequently to have ſome Eſſays on the Subject inſerted in the Newspapers, to keep it in the View of the Publick, for which Purpoſe, pray ſtir up ſome of your Acquaintance, who are capable of writing; nor let them be afraid of Criticiſm; what Heart can be ſo callous as to endeavour to leſſen the Merit of ſtriving to prevail on the Affluent and Wealthy, to part with a Share of their Subſtance for the Aſſiſtance of the Wretched and Miſerable? Surely our enlightened Age will not afford Men of a Stamp ſo deteſtable. I am ſo much perſuaded of this, that I could even venture theſe ſcattered Thoughts, wrote as you ſee, in Haſte, to be offered to the Candour of the Publick, if you think they may at all conduce to the Service of the Hoſpital. Whether you do or no, I will add another Quotation from my favourite Armſtrong.

But for one End, one much neglected Uſe,
Are Riches worth your Care (for Nature's Wants
Are few, and without Opulence ſupplied.)
This noble End is, to produce the Soul,
To ſhew the Virtues in their faireſt Light;
To make Humanity the Miniſter
Of bounteous Providence; and teach the Breaſt
That generous Luxury the Gods enjoy.

I remain, dear Sir,
Your affectionate Friend.

LONDON, June 2.

The KING's LETTER to the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, which met on the 21st ult. was as follows.

GEORGE R.

RIGHT reverend and well beloved, we greet you well; having the most pertect confidence, as well in your loyalty and affection to our person and government, as in your zeal for the encouragement of virtue and piety, we take this first opportunity of assuring you of our fixt purpose and resolution, to support the Presbyterian Church of Scotland, in the full enjoyment of its rights and privileges, as by law established.

At the same time, as we have no doubt of your coming together in the best intentions to promote the happiness of our reign, and the true interest of the Church, whereof you are members, we have a particular satisfaction in countenancing your present meeting with our royal authority.

The many and repeated proofs which your former Assemblies have given of their wisdom, prudence and temper, are an earnest to us of the moderation which we may expect from you, in avoiding all unnecessary debates and contentions amongst yourselves, and giving your whole attention to the means of advancing true religion, and the service of Almighty God.

The preventing as much as possible the growth of Popery, and suppressing of vice and immorality to the utmost of your power, are objects of so great consequence, that you may be fully assured of our ready concurrence with you, in whatever may tend to the attainment of this desirable end.

And as you cannot but be affected with the most sensible pleasure in reflecting upon the present undisturbed tranquility and freedom which you enjoy in common with the rest of our good subjects of Scotland, we are persuaded you will think it of the highest moment to infuse into the minds of the people under your charge, such principles, and such a spirit, as may be best adapted to the security of our happy constitution, and their own most valuable interest.

We have appointed our right trusty and well beloved Charles Lord Cathcart, to represent our royal person in this Assembly, being well satisfied with his loyalty, integrity, and zeal for our service. You have before had experience of his abilities for the discharge of this important trust, which we now confer upon him, and of his particular affection to the Church of Scotland, and concern for its prosperity; so that we have the greatest reason to believe, that our choice of him, upon this occasion, will be most agreeable to you.

There is nothing more remaining but to acquaint you with our hopes, that the charity, brotherly love, and unanimity of your proceedings in the business before you, will bring this your meeting to as happy a conclusion as that of any former Assembly: And so we bid you heartily farewel. Given at our Court at St. James's, the sixth day of May 1761, in the first year of our reign.

By his Majesty's command. BUTE.

St. JAMES's, June 9.

The following answer of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, to his Majesty's most gracious letter, has been transmitted to the Earl of Bute, one of his Majesty's principal Secretaries of State, and by him presented to the King.

May it please your Majesty,

YOUR Majesty's most gracious letter to this first General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, which hath had the happiness to meet since the beginning of your Majesty's most auspicious reign, we received with the greatest joy, and do acknowledge with the utmost gratitude.

Your Majesty's being pleased, in so gracious a manner, to take this first opportunity of assuring us of your fixed purpose and resolution to support the Church of Scotland in the full enjoyment of all its rights and privileges, as by law established, is a most endearing testimony of your royal favour to us, which we humbly accept of with the greatest thankfulness, and rely upon with the firmest confidence, as esteeming your Majesty's royal protection to be, under God, our greatest security. Your Majesty does us the greatest honour, when you are pleased to express the most perfect confidence in our loyalty and affection to your person and government, and in our zeal for the encouragement of virtue and piety; and it shall be our constant care, through divine assistance, so to acquit ourselves upon every occasion, as that your Majesty may never have reason to entertain a less favourable opinion of this Church. These sentiments are deeply rooted in our hearts, and we shall most chearfully embrace every opportunity of expressing them.

Your Majesty's countenancing our present meeting with your royal authority, we take as a great blessing from God, and a most engaging evidence of your majesty's royal goodness. To promote the happiness of your Majesty's reign, and the true interests of this Church, are great and desirable ends, which we are bound always to have in view; and we should be most unworthy of your Majesty's favour, and of the character we bear, if we had not the best disposition to contribute to them all in our power.

The mention your Majesty is pleased to make of the many and repeated proofs, which our former General Assemblies have given of their wisdom, prudence, and temper, shews us your Majesty's kind inclination to approve what hath been done by others before us according to their duty, and is a great incitement to us to follow the good example of those, with whom your Majesty hath the goodness to express yourself so well satisfied. We are sensible how much disputes and contentions among ourselves would give advantage to those who are enemies to the peace and prosperity of your Majesty's government, upon which, our own welfare, under God, does depend; and we humbly acknowledge your Majesty's fatherly tenderness for us, in being pleased to caution us against them, and in recommending to us the giving our whole attention to the means of advancing true religion, and the service of Almighty God. We pray and hope, that the good spirit of God, who is the spirit of love and peace, will assist us to dispatch all our business with that unanimity, brotherly love, and charity, which becomes the servants of the prince of peace, and which is so necessary to the bringing of our meeting, at this time, to a happy conclusion.

We cannot but thankfully acknowledge your Majesty's royal wisdom, and watchful care, in calling upon us to prevent, as much as possible, the growth of Popery, and the suppressing of vice and immorality to the utmost of our power; and the assurance your Majesty gives us of your ready concurrence in whatever may tend to the attainment of so desirable ends, is at once the greatest encouragement and obligation for us to exert ourselves in the most vigorous manner for accomplishing them.

The present undisturbed tranquility and freedom we enjoy in common with the rest of your Majesty's good subjects, excite in us the most sensible pleasure; and it shall always be our principal care to make the people under our charge, deeply sensible of the blessings they now enjoy under your Majesty's wise government and administration; and to infuse into them those principles of piety and loyalty, on which the security of their own most invaluable interests entirely depend.

To this we are greatly animated by your royal Proclation in the beginning of your reign, and in a special manner, by your princely donation to this General Assembly, for promoting the knowledge and practice of religion in the Highlands and Islands, and places where Popery and ignorance prevail. For this we beg leave to return your Majesty our most humble and grateful acknowledgments, and earnestly pray, that God may abundantly reward you for so great a charity: And we shall take the most effectual care faithfully to apply it to the pious purposes, for which it is granted by your Majesty.

Lord Cathcart hath given such eminent proofs of his loyalty, integrity, and zeal for your Majesty's service, and of his abilities, on many former occasions, for the discharge of this important trust, which your Majesty has reposed in him, and of his most affectionate concern for the prosperity and happiness of this Church, as render your Majesty's choice of him, to represent your royal person in this Assembly, most acceptable and obliging to us; and we humbly acknowledge it as a particular evidence of your Majesty's goodness.

That the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ may long preserve your Majesty to be a blessing to these lands, the guardian of our liberties, civil and sacred, and the support of the Protestant interest; that he may bless your Majesty's arms in the just and necessary war in which you are now engaged, for vindicating the honour of your crown, and redressing the injuries done to your subjects; and that he may prosper all your Majesty's endeavours for restoring the peace, and preserving the liberties of Europe; that he may bless the Princess Dowager of Wales, and all the branches of your Royal Family; that there never may be wanting one of your most illustrious house to fill the throne of these kingdoms to latest ages; and that after a long and happy reign, over a free and dutiful people, you may exchange an earthly for a heavenly crown, are and shall be the sincere and hearty prayers of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most faithful, most obedient, and most loyal subjects,

The Ministers and Elders met in this national Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

Williamburgh (in Virginia) August 21.

On Wednesday Se'nnight died, at his House in this City, WILLIAM HUNTER, Esq; one of His Majesty's Deputy Postmasters General of the Continent of North-America, and Printer to the General Assembly of this Colony; a Gentleman endowed with many amiable Qualifications, which render his Death much regretted by all who had the Pleasure of his Acquaintance.

BOSTON, August 31.

By Advice from Quebec, we hear that the Canadians say, they have not had, for nineteen Years past, equal Ease and Leisure for the Cultivation of their Lands.---That there was a promising Appearance of fine Crops of Grain the Beginning of last Month.---That the Governor had sent from Quebec an Engineer by the Chaudiere to Fort Halifax; it is likewise talked of another Engineer going from thence to the River St. John, down to the Bay of Fundy; there are Indians employed to assist and guide the Engineers. We may hope for great Advantages from the accurate Surveys and Observations of those Gentlemen, and obtain a certain Knowledge of our own Frontiers, which, 'till very lately, we knew little of, but from the French Accounts.

The Province Ship King George, Capt. Hallowell, sails this Day as Convoy to a Storeship bound to New-York.

We hear that a Vessel is arrived at Halifax, in six Weeks and two Days from London; and that she brought Advice, That there were the greatest Preparations making in England for another very important Expedition.---That M. Bussy, who it is said was sent from France to England, to negociate a Cessation of Arms, had not succeeded in his Expectations, but was returned to Paris: And that there was great Prospect of the War still continuing.

We have Advice from Antigua, that from the 14th of June to the 18th of July last, no less than 23 Sail of the Enemy's Vessels have been taken by our Men of War and Cruizers, and sent into that and St. Kitts, four of which were Privateers, besides two retaken Brigs from Piscataqua.

Yesterday Morning his Majesty's Ship Chesterfield, Captain Scarfe, sailed from Nantasket for Casco Bay, from whence she is to proceed to England with the Mast-Ships, and a Number of other Vessels under her Convoy.

We hear the Merchants of this Place have remitted Home in the Chesterfield near 100,000 Dollars; and 'tis said the Number would have been much larger, had the Ship staid longer, and Dollars could have been procured.

NEW-YORK, September 7.

Wednesday last the General Assembly of this Province met here pursuant to Prorogation, when the Session was opened with the following

SPEECH of the Honourable CADWALLADER COLDEN, Esq; His Majesty's Lieutenant-Governor and Commander in Chief of the Province of New-York, and the Territories depending thereon in America, to the Council and General Assembly of the said Province.

Gentlemen of the Council, and General Assembly,

SINCE our last Meeting, I have the Honour of His Majesty's Commission, appointing me His Lieutenant-Governor. As this is a Mark of the Royal Approbation, my Thanks are due to you, for that effectual Support and Assistance, so readily afforded on your Part, and so necessary on mine, in the Discharge of the weighty Duties of Government.

The Time for which the Forces raised in the Province were inlisted, already near expiring, it is not possible the regular Troops destined for the important intended Expedition, can return before it is elapsed; and as in their Absence, a small Body of Men will be necessary for the Protection of the several Forts, and the whole Country: His Excellency Gen. AMHERST, by his Letter of the 15th of June, now laid before you, desires me to recommend your continuing in Pay, for a longer Period, a Company, to consist of 173 Men, including a Captain and three Subalterns; the Quota of this Government, agreeable to the Numbers required of the several Colonies for this essential Service.

Your Meeting could not have taken Place, after the Receipt of the General's Letter, earlier than the Harvest, a Season so inconvenient, that, by the Advice of His Majesty's Council, who were of Opinion you would not hesitate in complying with this moderate and necessary Requisition, I delayed calling you together till this Time.

Gentlemen of the General Assembly,

The Supplies to be granted, bear so little Proportion to what we might have expected, and to that Weight of Expence you have hitherto chearfully sustained, that to press you to it by Arguments, may be thought injurious to that Zeal for His Majesty's Service, and the Safety of His Colonies, so conspicuous in your own, and the Conduct of the Representatives of the loyal People of this Province, on every former Occasion.

The present unfavourable Disposition of the Indians on the Borders of Ulster and Orange, creates great Uneasiness among the Inhabitants.---The Information I have received will be communicated, and as some Expence may be incurred, in the Prosecution of the Measures necessary to deter these Savages from Acts of Violence, and to bring them back to their Duty, you will consider whether it may not be prudent, by some Fund for contingent Services, to strengthen the Hands of Government, that the most effectual Protection may be given to the Settlements on any Emergency.

Gentlemen of the Council, and General Assembly,

What appears immediately essential for your Deliberation I have laid before you. It would afford me the greatest Pleasure to contribute to the Happiness, Ease and Prosperity of the good People of this Province: But as the Powers of Government will, probably, soon be lodged in the Hands of Major-General MONCKTON, whose Services His Majesty hath been pleased to distinguish, by constituting him his Captain-General and Governor in Chief, I think it improper for me to recommend any Thing to you, which may be delayed without publick Inconvenience.

Fort-George, New-York, September 2, 1761. CADWALLADER COLDEN.

To the Honourable CADWALLADER COLDEN, Esq; His Majesty's Lieutenant-Governor and Commander in Chief of the Province of New-York, and the Territories depending thereon in America,

The Humble ADDRESS of the Council of the Province of New-York.

May it please your Honour,

THE Council beg Leave to return you their Thanks for your Speech, and to offer you their Congratulations on your Advancement to the Dignity of Lieutenant-Governor---A Mark not only of the Royal Favour, but of His Majesty's Approbation of your Conduct, in the Discharge of the weighty Duties of Government---The same Zeal, and unwearied Diligence, hitherto so conspicuous, we doubt not will be continued throughout your Administration.

Professing the most unshaken Loyalty to our Sovereign, and fully sensible of the Advantages derived to these Colonies, from the happy Successes attending the vigorous Prosecution of the War; you may, Sir, rely on our ready Assent to the Aid required by the General, whose Fortitude, Wisdom, and Benevolence, have justly acquired him the Confidence and Esteem of His Majesty's Subjects on this extensive Continent.

His HONOUR's ANSWER.

GENTLEMEN,

I Thank you for this very obliging Address.

Your Loyalty, testified on this, as on all Occasions, and the proper Light in which you consider the important Advantages derived to these Colonies, by the vigorous and successful Prosecution of the War, must approve you highly worthy of the Confidence reposed in you by His Majesty.

With Pleasure, I join in the Sentiments you so justly entertain of the General, whose distinguished Abilities have deservedly recommended him to the Royal Favour, and gained him universal Esteem and Applause.

To the Honourable CADWALLADER COLDEN, Esq; His Majesty's Lieutenant Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over the Colony of New-York, and the Territories depending thereon in America,

The Humble ADDRESS of the General Assembly of the said Colony.

May it please your Honour,

WE His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the General Assembly of the Colony of New-York, congratulate your Honour on your being appointed Lieutenant Governor of this Colony; and it is with Pleasure we observe, that any Support and Assistance afforded on our Part, and which your Honour is pleased to think so necessary to your Discharge of the weighty Duties of Government, have met with your Approbation.

The Requisition your Honour makes of a Proportion of a small Body of Men, for the Protection of the several Forts, we have taken into our Consideration; in which our Loyalty to His Majesty, and our Duty to our Constituents, suffered no Arguments to have Weight, but the Necessity of the Service.

When your Honour shall have laid before us the Informations you have received of the unfavourable Dispositions of the Indians, we shall not fail to give them our most serious Consideration, in order to investigate the Causes, and apply such Remedies as shall be thought necessary; for we are sensible that a Peace with them, is of the utmost Importance to this Colony.

Whatever your Honour shall lay before us, as conducive to the Happiness, Ease, and Prosperity of the good People of this Colony, we shall be willing at all Times to apply ourselves to, and shall as readily concur with your Honour in every Thing of that Nature, as if the Powers of Government were not for many Years to be lodged in other Hands.

As the Bravery and Conduct of Major Gen. MONCKTON, are well known to have been of singular Service to his Country in general, and to these Colonies in particular,

On Tueſday Evening arrived here the Schooner John and Elizabeth, Capt. Cooper, in 18 Days from St. Chriſtophers. He reports, that a large French Privateer Sloop, of about 15 Carriage Guns, and 80 Men, had attacked one of our Frigates, ſuppoſing her to be a Merchantman, but was quickly convinced of her Miſtake, and brought into Antigua, and is like to turn out a good Prize.

Between the Latitude 38 and 40, near our Coaſt, Capt. Cooper ſaw two Sloops, which tried to ſpeak with him, but he apprehending them to be Privateers, out ſailed, and left them.

The Privateer Brig Mars, Captain Hanſen, arrived here Yeſterday from a Cruize.

Since our laſt a Victualling Ship arrived here from Cork, in 9 Weeks. She came out with ſeveral others, under Convoy, but parted Company in bad Weather.

His Majeſty's Ship the Devonſhire, of 64 Guns; and the Penzance of 40, now lie at the Watering Place.

PHILADELPHIA, September 10.

On Monday laſt the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of this Province met here.

On Friday laſt was brought in here by Captain John Blair, a re-taken Schooner, Captain Davidſon late Maſter, bound to Quebec from Guadaloupe; who, on the Eighth of laſt Month, to the Eaſtward of Bermuda, was taken by a French Privateer Sloop, of 12 Carriage Guns, belonging to Martinico. The next Day the ſaid Privateer fell in with the Ship Sarah, Captain Katter, of this Place, bound to St. Chriſtophers, when a ſmart Engagement enſued, which laſted for four Glaſſes; and after the firſt Glaſs the Frenchman hung up his bloody Flag, upon which Katter's Men agreed to ſtand by the Ship to the laſt, and accordingly plied the Enemy ſo warmly, that he thought proper to ſheer off, in a ſhattered Condition, after having made ſeveral Attempts to board the Sarah. None of Captain Katter's People received any Hurt; the Loſs of the Privateer not known, but it was thought a principal Officer, and ſeveral of her Hands, were killed. On the 13th of Auguſt Captain Katter, about 75 Leagues South-eaſt of Bermuda, retook, and ſent in the above Veſſel; her Lading Melaſſes, Rum, &c.

The Bedford, Captain Kidd, from Madeira for this Port, is taken, and carried to Martinico.

Friday laſt, being the Day appointed for the Opening of ST. PETER'S Church in this City, the officiating Clergy, and ſeveral of their Brethren, together with the Church-Wardens and Veſtry-Men, met at CHRIST-CHURCH, from whence they walked in regular Proceſſion to the GOVERNOR'S Houſe, and, being there joined by his HONOUR and ſome Members of his Council, they went on to ST. PETER'S, where an animated and well-adapted Sermon was preached by the Reverend Dr. SMITH, Provoſt of the College in this City, to a polite and crouded Audience, from theſe Words: "I have ſurely built Thee an "Houſe to dwell in, a ſettled Place for Thee to abide in "for ever.----But will God indeed dwell on the Earth? "Behold the Heaven and Heaven of Heavens cannot "contain Thee; how much leſs this Houſe that I have "builded?----

"The Lord our God be with us, as he was with our "Fathers: let him not leave us, nor forſake us:----

"That all the People of the Earth may know, that the "Lord is God, and that there is none elſe." 1. Kings, Ch. viii. 13, 27, 57, 60.

Every Thing was conducted with the utmoſt Decency, Order and Solemnity; and after Sermon, the Words of the Text, which had been previouſly compoſed into an Anthem, were elegantly ſung by a Number of Ladies and Gentlemen, to the vaſt Satisfaction of every Body preſent.

The Sermon is now in the Preſs, and will ſpeedily be publiſhed at the unanimous Requeſt of the Veſtry, and ſundry Members of the Congregation.

 As great Loſs has been repeatedly ſuſtained at the Poſt-Office, by Gentlemen coming, or ſending their Servants, without Money; Notice is hereby given, that no Letters will be delivered for the future, on any Pretence whatever, without the Money.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

Abſtract of an ACT of PARLIAMENT, paſſed in the Thirty-third Year of the Reign of his late MAJESTY, intituled, An ACT for veſting certain Eſtates in Pennſylvania, New-Jerſey, and Maryland, belonging to the Proprietors of a Partnerſhip, called, The Pennſylvania Land Company in London, in Truſtees to be ſold; and for other Purpoſes therein mentioned.

THE Act recites a Conveyance in Fee, dated the 11th and 12th of Auguſt 1699, from William Penn to Tobias Collet, Michael Ruſſell, Daniel Quare, and Henry Gouldney, of ſeveral Lots in Philadelphia; and a Tract of Land in the County of Bucks in Pennſylvania, granted to Richard Noble; and of One Hundred Acres of Land in the ſaid County, and all Buildings and Improvements thereon; and of Sixty Thouſand Acres of Land in Pennſylvania; and Five Thouſand Acres thereof in the Manour of Highlands, Five Thouſand Acres in the Manour of Gilberts, in the County of Philadelphia, Five Thouſand Acres in the Manour of Rocklands (Seven Hundred Acres whereof were to be ſet out upon the River Delaware, and the reſt to be one Lot out of every Townſhip) and the Remainder of the ſaid Sixty Thouſand Acres to be ſet out of ſuch other Parts as the ſaid Grantees, their Heirs or Aſſigns ſhould deſire (except ſuch as were already taken up) and alſo of all Lots, Mines, Minerals, Royalties, Commons and Appurtenances (royal Mines only excepted) with a proportionable Part of all Liberty Lots laid out, but not taken up, at and under the yearly Rent of two Beaver Skins.

And alſo, that by Indenture, dated the ſame 12th of Auguſt, between the ſaid Grantees of the one Part, and William Beach and others, of the other Part, the ſaid Grantees agreed to ſtand ſeized upon Truſt, to execute ſuch Deeds as ſhould be approved of by the Grand Committee of the Proprietors; and that the ſaid Grand Committee, or Grantees, by their Order, might depute any Perſon in the ſaid Province to contract for and execute Conveyances of the Premiſes, and that the nett Profits of the Premiſes ſhould be divided into Two Hundred and Twenty Shares, and be managed by a Grand Committee, to be annually choſen, as therein mentioned; and that the Proprietors ſhould be called, The Proprietors of the Pennſylvania Land Company in London; with Directions how the ſaid Two Hundred and Twenty Shares ſhould be transferred or deſcend, in caſe of Death.

And alſo, that in the Year 1720, the Proprietors of the ſaid Two Hundred and Twenty Shares, diſpoſed thereof to a new Sett of Proprietors, who divided the ſame into Eight Thouſand Eight Hundred Shares, and Receipts for many of them were ſigned and given out by Thomas Story the then Treaſurer.

And alſo a Conveyance in Fee, dated the 23d and 24th of December 1720, from the ſaid Thomas Story to John Haddon and Benjamin Kirton, of a Tract of Land between the two navigable Creeks in the County of Kent, in Pennſylvania, containing Eleven Thouſand Acres; another Tract, lying at Pequa Creek, in the County of Cheſter, in Pennſylvania, containing One Thouſand Nine Hundred and Forty Acres; another Tract in Goſhen, in the ſame County, containing Two Hundred and Seventy-four Acres; another Tract on Schuylkill, in the ſaid County of Philadelphia, containing Three Hundred and Thirty-four Acres; one Oil, and one Corn or Griſt Mill, and the Land thereto belonging, containing Six Acres; another Tract of Land in the ſaid County of Bucks, containing One Hundred and Seventy-Acres; one Bank Lot and Wharff, containing One Hundred and Twelve Feet, in the ſettled Part of the City, with a ſmall Tenement thereon, and Three Hundred Acres of rich Swamp Land near Philadelphia (whereof about Seventy Acres were imbanked and incloſed) and Seven Thouſand Two Hundred Acres of Land in Pennſylvania, not then taken up; in Truſt for the ſaid Company.

And alſo a Conveyance in Fee, dated the 26th and 27th of September 1723, from Peter Sonmans to the ſaid Haddon, Samuel Bonham, Samuel Turner, and John Midford, of Two Ninetieth Parts of Ninety equal Hundredth Parts of a Tract of Land on the Weſtern Diviſion of New-Jerſey, called Arent Sonman's Manour, in the County of Burlington, containing Twenty Thouſand Acres, with the Allowance for Roads; and all other Tracts belonging to the ſaid Proprietaries in Weſt New-Jerſey, not then taken up; and all Mines, Minerals, Royalties, and Appurtenances thereto belonging (except and reſerved to the ſaid Sonmans, his Heirs and Aſſigns, one full Moiety of the ſaid two equal Ninetieth Parts, to be taken out and diſtinguiſhed from the remaining Part) in one entire Tract, in Truſt for the ſaid Company.

And alſo that it appears, that about Nineteen Thouſand One Hundred and Ninety-four Acres of the Premiſes have been ſold, and that about Seventy-two Thouſand Three Hundred and Thirty now remain unſold, beſides ſome Houſes, Mills and Tenements.

And alſo, that Three Thouſand Six Hundred and Eighty-one of the ſaid Eight Thouſand Eight Hundred Shares have been transferred to John Bell, who, by his Deed-poll, dated the 12th of November 1753, acknowledged the ſame to be in Truſt for the ſaid Company; and, by Deed-poll dated the 21ſt of September 1759, aſſigned the ſame to the ſaid Hyam, Reynolds, and How, in Truſt as aforeſaid.

And that, in Purſuance of Advertiſements, Claims have been made, under ſeveral Receipts, for Six Hundred and Fifty Shares, and Twenty-ſix Shares; and the Names of the Perſons who produced ſuch Receipts, or claimed ſuch Shares, are mentioned in the ſecond Schedule.

And alſo, that it is unknown who are entitled to the Remainder of the ſaid Eight Thouſand Eight Hundred Shares; and that ſeveral of the Perſons, named in the ſaid Schedules, are dead; and ſome of the ſaid Shares have been aſſigned; and that the Premiſes unſold are greatly increaſed in Value; and, if ſold, would raiſe a conſiderable Sum to be divided amongſt the Perſons intereſted, and the parcelling out thereof may tend to populate the ſaid Colonies.

And alſo, that Contracts have been made with Francis Rawle, the ſaid Company's Agent in Pennſylvania, for Sale of ſome of the Premiſes; and that it will be for the Benefit of all Perſons intereſted, that what remains ſhould with all convenient Speed be ſold; but Perſons decline treating, unleſs all the Perſons intereſted join in the Sale, or unleſs the ſaid Lands, by Authority of Parliament, be veſted in Truſtees to be ſold.

And the Premiſes ſhall be put up to be ſold accordingly, and ſo from Time to Time, till ſold.

And, upon Truſt, to convey all Parcels, by the ſaid Rawle agreed to be ſold, to the Purchaſers, their Heirs and Aſſigns, on Payment of the Purchaſe Money, and on Payment of the Money agreed for any Part, by the Act, veſted in the Truſtees, ſuch Premiſes ſhall, at the Coſt of the Purchaſers, be conveyed to them, their Heirs and Aſſigns.

The Truſtees, after Receipt of any Money, ſhall with all convenient Speed pay the ſame into the Bank of England, or place it out in the public Funds at Intereſt, and apply the Dividends as the principal Money is directed to be applied.

LONDON, MAY 28.

Yesterday morning John Brett was executed at Tyburn, for forgery;---He was genteelly dressed in mourning, with a cockade in his hat, having formerly been an officer. At the place of execution he made a short speech to the populace, wherein he owned he was guilty of the crime for which he suffered, and hoped others would take warning by him.-----

May 30. The unfortunate Mr. Brett, who was executed on Wednesday last, was a most accomplished gentleman; he wrote as fine a hand as most men in England; his thoughts flowed uncommonly clear and quick; his diction was admirably good; he understoood most branches of the mathematicks; and was a good Latin grammarian, of which he has left some proofs.-----

My dear friend!

THIS is probably the last time I shall put pen to paper---To-morrow---To-morrow---must come, when I shall launch into eternity!---O my dear friend! it is a dreadful plunge; nature recoils at the thought of a dissolution, and the human frame shudders at the apprehension of annihilation---Annihilation! It cannot be---the notion is injurious to the great creator of the universe. Can we suppose that man, formed after his own image, should be sent to crawl upon this earth, for a moment as it were, and be no more? No, there is certainly a somewhere, in which we in a higher station, shall be made acquainted with the purpose of our creation, and enjoy eternal happiness. O may this place be mine! It must! God is all gracious, merciful and just; and will not for the frailty of a weak mortal, doom him to an eternity of torments. I rest in this hope; and though my crimes are manifold, happiness awaits me; and who dare to circumscribe the power of God, and say, I have offended past forgiveness? The laws of man indeed doom me to shame and punishment, which I confess I have merited; but the mercy of the Almighty is unbounded, and the gates of heaven are open to a repentant sinner.

My penitence (if I know myself) is sincere, therefore I doubt not of a share in glory.---But still I am called back to life;---an aged father's heart bleeding with sorrow for an unhappy son;---a wife---a tender wife, and two helpless babes, the darlings of my hope; these, these, are left to mourn a husband's and a father's fate.---This is too much---left to encounter the scorn and reproaches of an ill-judging world. O my friend! Be thou their comfort; transfer the love you once bore for me to those unhappy innocent sharers of my disgrace. I can no more---farewel---a time will come when we shall meet agin;---once more farewel; pray for me; and may the Lord receive my soul into his heavenly mansions, into those regions of bliss, where I may join in chorus with angels and arch-angels, in singing hallelujahs to the most high."

ST. JAGO DE LA VEGA (Jamaica) July 25.

On Thursday arrived the private ship of war Deal-Castle, Capt. Mantle, from a cruize, and brought in two valuable prizes.

August 1. On Tuesday arrived a brig from New London, the master of which informs, that on the 18th ult. in lat. 25, 13, North, long. 67, 15 West, he saw six sail standing to the Northward, two of which appeared to be men of war.

On Wednesday, at noon, a reputable shopkeeper in Kingston, in very good circumstances, shot himself thro' the head, with a brace of pistol balls, which carried off most part of the roof of his skull. Some signs of insanity were discovered in him a few days before this rash action, wherefore the coroner's inquest returned a verdict of lunacy.

BASSTERRE (in St. Christophers) July 25.

Upon the 22d instant arrived in the road of Basseterre, his Majesty's ship Levant, John Laforey, Esq; commander, and brought in a very large French privateer sloop of 12 guns, 18 swivels and 58 men, bound to St. Eustatia from Martinico, and loaded with sugar and coffee. Captain Laforey also brought in 57 more French prisoners, being the commander and crew of a French schooner privateer of 8 guns, which he took some days ago, and she is arrivied in Antigua.

July 29. The following is an account of a late action at sea between the private sloop of war called the Pretty Betsy, of 10 guns, whereof Michael Campbell was commander, belonging to Basseterre, and a schooner, which is not known.

On Saturday, the 11th of July, in lat. 14. 13. north, to the westward of St. Vincent's, at five o'clock in the morning, a sail was descried, when the sloop Pretty Betsy gave chase, and at one o'clock next morning came up with her; she proved to be an armed schooner of 14 guns. Before the sloop could take in her small sails the schooner, without hoisting any colours (then or at any time after) began a very brisk fire, which was returned from the sloop, and the schooner's bowsprit getting entangled with the sloop's topping-lift, she fell along-side, and began a very brisk fire, and in a little time stove in all the sloop's upper work, from her stem to her round-house, which occasioned the loss of the sloop's bow gun, and three swivels. The captain and some of his officers boarded the schooner several times, but not being seconded by his foremast men, was obliged to retire. The schooner continued to keep up an incessant fire for about an hour and half, which obliged the people on board the sloop to call for quarter, but was denied it for some time; although they had struck their colours the schooner continued to fire upon them for some time before they would venture on board; at length they did, and ordered all hands immediately into the hold, where they remained till eight o'clock, when one of the sloop's people ventured upon deck, and finding that the enemy was gone, and carried away with them the sloop's boat, and the schooner a little to leeward of the sloop, concluded that they meant no other than to sink her, which was most assuredly their intention, but that they conceived from her shattered condition she would sink in a very short time. They made sail, and cut adrift the sloop's boat, which was moored astern of the schooner, and fired a shot through her, for fear she should fall into the hands of the sloop's people, and thereby save the lives of the remaining crew.

The enemy, while they remained on board the sloop, collected and carried away with them the mainsail, and all the small sails, running rigging, spare rigging, small arms, ammunition, the sloop's commission, log-lines, compasses, glasses, charts, the mens clothes, and in short, every thing they could. However, as necessity is the mother of invention, the wretched condition the remaining part of the crew were in, caused them to exert each his talent to put the sloop in some sort of order and condition, to save themselves and the sick and wounded, which through providence they effected, and in nine days after got safe to the island of St. Croix. To give a detail of the shifts they were put to would be a work of time, but in brief it can only be said, that without any instrument, very little provisions and water to subsist on, the flying-gib for a standing gib, and standing gib for a mainsail, they got safe into port.

Wounded much, George Roach, second lieutenant; James Dyer, William Egan, Edward Oxley, prize-masters; John Sloan and David Williams, mariners; and a Negroe man.

N. B. There is all the reason in the world to believe that she was a Dutch schooner belonging to Coracoa, by the number of mulattoes and negroes that were on board.

August 1. On Wednesday last was brought into the road of Basseterre by Capt. Alloway, the sloop Margaretta and Sarah, bound from the Granades to St. Eustatia.

CHARLES-TOWN (South-Carolina) August 19.

William Greenwood, Esq; captain of his majesty's ship Zephyr, who arrived off this bar the fifth inst. came up the same evening to wait upon the governor, the ship remaining at anchor, and having received from his honour information concerning the privateers said to be on our coast, next day put to sea, and on Saturday last appeared again off the bar. Captain Greenwood had in that time ranged along the coast as far as St. Augustine, and spoke with a great many vessels, but could get no intelligence of any privateers. He sent Mr. Stewart, his lieutenant, ashore at St. Augustine, to get what information he could. ----The small schooner, which did some hurt to Georgia, came in there to water, but was immediately ordered out by the Spanish governor. He had then been a month from Cape Francois, without taking any thing; and it was believed at St. Augustine that she was going to the Northward: The commander of the privateer was the person who last year cut the Guiney-man out of Hampton road, in Virginia. On Saturday Captain Greenwood proceeded to the northward on his cruize.

James Campbell, Esq; captain of his majesty's ship Nightingale, agreeable to the application made to him by the governor, and his ready consent given thereto, as formerly mentioned, proceeded to Rebellion Road on Saturday the 8th instant, where he was detained by contrary winds until Sunday last, and then sailed over the bar, to give all the protection to the trade and settlements on our coast, consistent with the orders he is under, relative to the convoying his majesty's troops, actually employed in the present expedition against the Cherokee Indians.

On Thursday last, quarter-master Sylvester, of Colonel Burton's regiment, who arrived the evening before from New-York, set out for the army with General Amherst's dispatches to Colonel Grant; the Governor having ordered horses and a guide to be provided for him immediately on his arrival.

On Friday last a Negroe fellow, about 17 years old, was burnt alive, at a stake on the green near the workhouse, being convicted of committing a rape upon, and giving the foul disease to a female white child, under 8 years of age.

By letters from North-Carolina, of the 10th instant, we learn, that Colonel Waddle was marched for fort Dobbs, with such part of his regiment as was provided with arms, in order to join the Virginia forces, as soon, and at such place, as should be ordered by Col. Byrd.

On Monday last week, upwards of 300 cattle were to set out from Ninety-six for the army; 200 more were to follow in a few days, and a number of waggons were expected at Ninety-six from the camp, to carry up flour.

A person yesterday from Augusta reports, that a party of Indians had carried off some cattle from Long-Canes; and a letter from Augusta, of the 4th instant, says, "that two of the Georgia rangers, belonging to lieutenant Barnard, were carried off about two days before; they were up river Savannah, about 20 miles above Augusta."

Extract of a letter from New-Providence, August 10.

"A Danish vessel, and a New-England man, brought in here lately, have been acquitted.----Captain Palmer, of the privateer brig Nassau, of this port, has sent in a large Spanish brig, with 200 hogsheads of sugar, which has been set at liberty, by consent of parties. A Spanish sloop has likewise been sent in here. And last night Capt. Oman, of the privateer schooner Charming Sally, of this port, brought in a very large Dutch ship, of 700 tons, loaded chiefly with naval stores, bound, as they say, for Havannah, but the captors say for Port-au-Prince, and that she had two setts of papers, one Dutch, and the other Spanish."

BOSTON, SEPTEMBER 7.

We hear from Falmouth, in the county of Barnstable, that on Saturday last was se'nnight, a whaleman arrived there, and informed, that on the Tuesday before he was chased for seven hours by a French privateer brig, in lat. 37, but by favour of the night he got clear:----the next morning he was chased again by the same brig, but she soon left him, and gave chace to a ship which then hove in sight, who soon came up with and fought her for several hours, but the ship being too many for her, the privateer was glad to make off as fast as she could.

By Captain Badger, who arrived here last week from Halifax, we learn, that on the 20th ult. his Majesty's ship Rochester, of 50 guns, Captain Burnet, arrived there from the Isle of Bic, in the river St. Lawrence, and had brought in a snow that he seized in the river, bound from Jersey to Quebec, laden with wine, brandy, &c. but can't as yet tell whether she will be condemned or not.

Tuesday last captain Delap, in a small schooner, sailed from hence for Halifax, but after being out a few hours, his vessel sprung a leak, and the water gaining upon them so fast, they were obliged to throw over all their cattle off the deck, and part of the cargoe in the hold, in order to preserve the vessel from sinking, and the next day they got safe back again:---Captain Shiverick coming in from Philadelphia, took up two of the cattle alive, after they had been in the water a considerable time, and brought them in with him.

We have advice from the river St. Lawrence, that Capt. Friend, in a ship from London for Quebec, which had the misfortune to run ashore on the island of Anticosta some time ago, is since bilged, by which the vessel and most of the cargoe is lost; Capt. Friend and his People were taken up by Capt. Paddock, one of the fleet from Cork, and carried to Gaspey, where he agreed with some fishermen to go to the wreck, and save as much of her as they could.

NEW-YORK, September 14.

Saturday last Capt. Morris arrived here from the coast of Africa: He says, that the French frigate that lately paid that coast a visit, had taken a great many vessels, and among the rest, one Capt. Elliot, from Rhode-Island.

Monday last a store ship arrived here from Boston, having been convoyed to the Hook by the Massachusets province frigate King George, Capt. Hallowell.

WILLIAMSBURGH, September 4.

Extract of a letter from Norfolk, August 31.

"Arrived yesterday at this port the ship Industry, Smallwood, the brig Nancy, Black, and the sloop---- --, Cooper, from Barbados. This day arrived the schooner Trial, James Barren master, in 18 days from Antigua; in which came passenger John Sheep, late master of the sloop Adventure, belonging to Colonel Robert Tucker of this place, taken on her passage to Antigua. Capt. Sheep says he left Martinico the 3d instant, in his Majesty's ship Culloden, which Sir James Douglas had sent in there as a flag of truce; that the success which the French privateers had on this coast last spring hath induced them to fit out ten sloops and schooners, carrying 10 or 12 guns each, to cruise off our Capes; and that they were so very presumptive as to declare their destination, and offered his mate a very high consideration to pilot them to Cape-Henry. As they were clear to sail when he left Martinico, doubtless they are now near this coast. There can be no reason to doubt the truth of this, as Captain Sheep is a man of known veracity."

PHILADELPHIA, SEPTEMBER 17.

On the 9th Instant, the SPEAKER, CHIEF JUSTICE, and most of the other MEMBERS of ASSEMBLY, visited the Pennsylvania HOSPITAL, in Consequence whereof, the Committee who were appointed on that Service, made the following Report to the House, viz.

PURSUANT to Order, your Committee, with the Speaker, and most of the Members of the House, on the 9th Instant visited the Pennsylvania Hospital, and after viewing the Wards, and several Apartments, the Condition of the Patients, and inspecting the Order and Management of the Charity, were fully satisfied that the Number of sick and diseased Poor there entertained, are well accommodated, provided for, and carefully attended; and by an Account exhibited to us by the Managers, we find the Number of Patients admitted, from the first Opening the Hospital, on the 10th of February 1752, to the 28th of April last, to be, - 870

The Benefits arising from this Institution are now so generally known, as to occasion a great Increase of the Number of Patients annually received, which has induced the Managers to apply a considerable Part of the Contributions obtained from private Persons for some Years past, towards compleating the House, whereby they are prevented making much Addition to their Capital Stock, the Interest arising from which, is the only Fund for Support of the Institution, and is not more than Half the Amount of the yearly Expence, as appears by the Accounts delivered us, and contained in the printed Narrative for the last seven Years, which we now lay before the House.

As this Charity has been hitherto carried on with a commendable Spirit, and a generous Disposition still appears among the Inhabitants for its Advancement, we beg Leave to recommend the State thereof to the further Notice of the House, not doubting their Benevolence in promoting an Institution so extensively beneficial to the Distressed, and honourable to the Province.

ISAAC SANDERS,

Since our last, the captains Appowen and Miller arrived here from Jamaica.

Captain Appowen, as lately mentioned in this paper, was taken by a French man of war of 74 guns, soon after he left our capes, but ransomed his vessel for Fifteen Hundred Pounds sterling.----Off the east end of Jamaica he spoke with Captain Hubbard, from this place for that island, all well on board.

Captain Miller spoke with a privateer brig, Captain Washington, of Jamaica, going in there with four prizes; one of which a privateer sloop, of 14 guns, commanded by Palanqui; who, we learn, was cut out of the Kaimetta's.

With Captain Appowen came passenger Captain Taylor, late of the schooner Fox, of this port, who was taken off the east end of Jamaica, by a French privateer.

The ship Live Oak, Captain Ashmead, from this harbour for Jamaica, is taken, and sent to Port-au-Prince.

The Susannah, Rankin, from Maryland, is arrived at Jamaica.

The sloop Thomas, Captain Haselwood, from Tortola for this place, is taken, and carried into St. Thomas's.

For the ENTERTAINMENT of the CURIOUS,

A COURSE of Electrical EXPERIMENTS, accompanied with Lectures on the Nature and Properties of LIGHTNING, shewing an infallible Method of preserving Houses, Ships, &c. from being damaged by it, is proposed to be exhibited at the College (provided the Air be dry enough) on Tuesday and Wednesday next. By EBENEZER KINNERSLEY, M. A. Professor of English and Oratory in the College and Academy of Philadelphia.

As the Knowledge of Nature tends to enlarge the human Mind, and give us more grand and exalted Ideas of the Author of Nature, it is presumed that this Course of Experiments will be, to some, an agreeable Entertainment. Those who desire to have their Dwellings effectually secured from the destructive Violence of one of the most awful Powers of Nature, may, by these Lectures and Experiments, learn more of the Nature and Properties of LIGHTNING than was ever known in the World till late-

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freshest Advices, Foreign and Domestic.

Friday last arrived here the Ship Hamilton, Capt. White, from the Orkneys, by whom we have the following Advices from the Edinburgh Courant of the 4th of July, viz.

VESCOVETO, in Corsica, May 30.

NO man here will hearken to the terms of peace proposed by the Genoese. M. Martinette, a colonel in the service of the Republic, who had harboured some of the Genoese that came to treat of peace, was assulted in his own house by some of our town's people; and, after a good deal of blood spilt, was obliged to fly to Bastia with all his family; his goods were all destroyed, and his estate appropriated to the use of the state. The national officers sent here by the Republic, in order to bring about a peace, have been given up to the Judges by their very parents; three sailors from Bastia, who had brought over a Genoese, whose business was to assassinate some of our principal citizens, were hanged on the 25th at night. The Corsican soldiers, in the pay of the Republic, desert in great numbers, glad to regain their own fire sides.

Confines of Saxony, June 13. The time is drawing near when we shall have news to send. The army of the Empire is advancing, and as Prince Henry cannot prevent its progress, nor even cause it to be observed, without weakening himself too much, it is not doubted but M. Daun will make a proper use of this circumstance.

Cleves, June 20. The 16th inst. M. Scheiter passed the Rhine, with a detachment of 100 horse, between Waeze and Rees, and there burnt two lighters full of hay, and a small magazine on the shore. From thence he proceeded to Sonsbeek, burning the fortress of Guelders at Aersen, where he burnt the remains of a magazine. The 18th, in the evening, he set fire to the magazine of Gennep, and destroyed some flour besides. The same evening he arrived at Cranenburgh, from whence, after taking some refreshment, he took the route of Kekem, and there repassed the Rhine at break of day, in the common ferry at Lobiz, where he found two more lighters loaded with hay, which he likewise destroyed, and then continued his march, probably to go by the way of Emmerick and Rochelt.

Lisbon, May 26. A vessel is arrived here with 124 Jesuits, the last of those who were in the King's territories in the Indies. Their number was 140 when they embarked, but 16 died of the scurvy. The others are ill of the same distemper, and we wait for their recovery, to put them on board some foreign vessel bound to Italy.

Liege, June 22. The burghers of this town having refused to lett their granaries to the French for their flour, they asked for the granaries of the convents, which were granted; but those not being sufficient for the vast quantities they have here, they demanded the Cloisters of the Canons of St. Paul, but were refus'd; on which this morning they broke open the doors, and carried in their sacks by force.

Hague, June 26. We have no letters from the Allied army; but what we hear from Westphalia is, that the Prince of Soubize was still at Dortmund on the 23d; but had pushed a vanguard forward to Unna, Camen, and Luyman. These accounts mention besides, that the Hereditary Prince had sent away his heavy baggage; and Prince Ferdinand had advanced from Paderborn to Geseke, so as to support his Serene Highness. It is supposed, that the French army is delayed for want of subsistance, which the late rains have made it difficult to procure from Wesel. M. Broglio is said to be marching on his side towards Westphalia.

Letters from Magdebourg say, that the King of Prussia and Prince Henry still remained in their former position.

Prince Frederick Eugene of Wirtemberg is entrenched before Colberg, for the defence of that place. And the Russian army had advanced to Landsberg and Driesen.

Francfort, on the Oder, June 14. It is this moment reported, that the Russians have seized on Lansberg, 9 miles N. E. from this city.

Brandenbourg, June 17. Since Prince Eugene of Wirtemberg marched towards Pomerania, with the greatest part of the Prussian troops that were in the Dutchy of Mecklenbourg, the Swedes have begun to make some motions. A body of their troops advanced on the side of Demmin, and their fleet is sailed from Rugen, where it wintered. Tho' their Designs are not known, it is probable they will attempt to enter Mecklenbourg, where they know there remains not above 4 or 5000 Prussian troops under Col. Belling.

Dresden, June 13. Marshal Daun continues yet in his head quarters. Nothing of moment will pass here till the arrival of the army of the Empire, which every moment draws nearer towards Dippoldswalde. When it arrives there some operations of consequence will begin.

Augsbourg, June 15. The plenipotentiaries of the king of France at the future congress, have hired here our fine Hotel des Tres Maures, for which they are to give 20,000 livres per annum. We have long believed, that the meeting of the congress would be preceded by a suspension of arms between the belligerant powers; but that hope has been delusive.

Dusseldorp, June 23. A courier from the army of the Prince de Soubise brings an account, that the French have had some advantage over the Allies at Lunen, between Dorsten and Ham; the latter having been obliged to retire, with the loss, among others, of two pieces of cannon. This courier adds, that as soon as Marshal Broglio shall reach a post agreed upon, all the army, which has been since the 18th in the neighbourhood of Dortmund, will march to Lipstadt.

Hague, June 25. The letters received this day from Westphalia import, that the respective armies were making in those quarters such motions as would, in all probability, very soon bring on some affair, if not decisive, at least of a nature that may have great influence on the success of the operations of this campaign.

Paris, June 19. We are taking the necessary measures for opposing the further progress of the British arms; and a whisper runs about of a new scene that is to open, in case the English persist in their designs.

LONDON.

June 30. It is very well known, that Spain, either seriously, or affectedly seems to look upon the motions of the Turks as a serious affair. It affords at least, a sufficient pretext for keeping the Spanish forces, by sea and land, in a respectable state of defence, and ready to enter into action on any emergency.

Extract of a letter from Constantinople, May 16.

"The Othman squadron will in a few days put to sea; and it will not consist, at most, of more than 12 ships, one may easily guess its destination. It is going to collect the annual contributions from the Islands of the Archipelago, and will do nothing else. However, the Porte, persisting in the resolution to augment its marine, one of the men of war which the Sultan has ordered to be built, was lanched a few days ago."---Upon this it is sufficient to observe, that the Grand Signior has no need of a powerful fleet to unhinge the schemes of France, Austria, and Russia; an army of 70 or 80,000 men, seasonably put in motion, may render him arbiter of the disputes between the Christian powers. But before his land forces stir, he must have full evidence and conviction of the views and temper of the Russian and Austrian courts; and this, perhaps, is not to be had till the congress opens at Augsbourg."

His majesty's ship of war Enterprize, convoy to the homebound Jamaica merchant fleet, is arrived at Plymouth; as are likewise several of the fleet. She sailed from Jamaica the 20th of April, with upwards of 80 vessels under her convoy, but several of them for North-America. The Rainbow man of war joined the fleet in soundings, at which time there were together 42 sail.

The Harriot packet-boat, Brailey, is arrived at Falmouth, from New-York.

The Fowey man of war, from New-York, is arrived at Portsmouth, and has brought in with her a French privateer of six guns.

By a private letter from Paris we learn, that the Duke d'Aiguillon is sent for to court, to give an account of his conduct, for not sending succours to the garrison of Palais.

Two French spies, from Soubize's army, are taken up in the camp commanded by the Hereditary Prince of Brunswick.

Letters from Hanover of the 19th say, that they are very unconcerned there at the motions of the French troops; as a proof of which, the artillery and the king's horses, which had been ordered to Stade, has been countermanded.

We are assured, that a courier is dispatched to Vienna, to know the last resolution of the Empress Queen, in regard to the general pacification; and to acquaint her, that, unless she accedes to the plan proposed, France is determined to make a separate peace with England.

Yesterday it was said, orders were given for a vessel to sail immediately to General Amherst, with dispatches of importance; which occasions various conjectures. Some guess it to be to stop his proceedings, agreeably to the proposition made for a general cessation, which was affirmed to be absolutely concluded on, and that the preliminary article, for a separate peace with France was also agreed to.

We can assure our readers with the utmost confidence, and from the best authority, that we are at the very eve of a peace. All the secret points of the negociation between M. de Bussy and our ministry are settled, and nothing remains undetermined, except some few matters of mere form. We may also, on this important occasion, congratulate the public on the firmness and constancy of the English ministry, who, we are well assured, have not receded from the terms at first insisted on.

The principal preliminaries to it, we are told, are as follow:

That the French restore Minorca.

That all North America, down to the Mississippi, be ceded to the English.

That Nieuport and Ostend be given up to the Queen of Hungary, on the payment of the money due to the French on them.

That Guadaloupe, Senegal, Goree, and Belle-isle, be restored to the French.

We hear, however, the Ministry are determined not to cease hostilities till the preliminaries are signed by the Duke of Choiseuil himself, to prevent any evasions which might hereafter happen from the extent of the power given to Monsr. Bussy.

The master of a Spanish vessel lately arrived, says, that within these 30 days he was in Brest, at which time there were no more than 8 men of war there, 3 of which were unfit for the sea, and the other 5 not half manned.

Letters from Rochelle, import, that a considerable number of armed Prahms were sailed for the river Loire, to guard the mouth of that river, in case any descent should be made in that part, by the English expedition fleet.

Several schemes are under consideration, for raising a sufficient sum, for the use of the government, to defray the expences of the ensuing year.

York, in nine Weeks from Falmouth, we have the following Advices, viz.

VIENNA (Capital of Germany) June 24.

ACCORDING to the last Dispatches from Marshal Daun, the Head-quarters of his Army were still in the new Town of Dresden. As to General Laudohn, he was yet encamped at Hautmansdorff on the 20th, but was making Dispositions to re-enter Silesia, and strike some great Blow, with the Help of the Russian Reinforcement that is on the Point of joining him.

Francfort, on the Oder, June 25. The King having received undoubted Intelligence, that the Russians, after resting two or three Days in their Camp near Posnania, had resumed their March forward, he resolved to detach several Battalions and Squadrons from his Army, in order to reinforce General Goltze, against whose Corps, it appears, the Enemy intend to make their chief Efforts.

Warsaw, June 15. An Estimate of the Damage done to the Electorate of Saxony, during the present war, is now drawing out, in order to lay before the Congress of Augsbourg, in Hopes of obtaining some Satisfaction.

Eimbeck, in the Principality of Grubenhagen, June 22. Prince Ferdinand, apprehending that M. Broglio intended to march with the greatest Part of his Forces towards the Weser, and attempt to pass it, has sent Orders to General Luckner, who was at this Place with his Troops, to march with all Expedition to Uslar, to dispute the Passage with them.

Vienna, June 25. The Russians have hastened their March so much, that all the different Columns of their Army arrived the 13th and 14th at Posen, from whence each will march to its Destination, after halting a few days.

Leipsic, June 20. The Head-quarters of the Army of the Empire are at Zuickau. It is thought that it may join the Left Wing of M. Daun's Army; and if this Corps should be joined by the French and Saxon Regiments, which were arrived on the 18th at Eysenach, Prince Henry's present Position will scarce be tenable.

Hamburgh, June 26. They write from Hanover, that they have received Advice there from London, that his Britannick Majesty is determined to pay all his Grandfather's Debts in that Electorate, which, together with the Arrears, may amount to 500,000 Rix-dollars, one Third of which is going to be paid directly.

Cologn, June 26. Soubise's Army is composed of 70,200 Foot, 11,340 Horse, 3000 Dragoons, and 3600 Light Troops; in all, 88,140 effective Men [on Paper] besides Engineers and the Train. It is followed by 120 Pieces of battering Cannon, and 500 Waggons of Biscuits, that the Soldiers may not be straitened for Want of Subsistence.

Hague, June 30. The last Letters from Westphalia, dated the 26th Instant, bring an Account, that Prince Ferdinand hath removed his Head-quarters from Geseke to Soest, and that the Prince his Nephew, who for some Days past was posted at Ham, was advanced to Dunkaren, in order to be ready to join Prince Ferdinand, if it should be necessary.

Port l'Orient, June 17. The English Squadron which reduced Belleisle now forms three Divisions, one of which, consisting of ten Ships of War, is before Brest, another before Rochefort, and the third before Port Louis. Some English Ships have also appeared before Dunkirk and Havre de Grace; and we at Port l'Orient are as much threatened as any. The English may succeed against the Island of Oleron more easily than at Belleisle; but St. Cas will be a Warning to them not to meddle with our Continent. As for the Rest, they may do what they please on the Ocean, we shall take our Revenge at Hanover.

For the Security of Port l'Orient, M. de Marbeuf is ordered to repair, with 3000 Men, to the Isle of Grouais, which covers our Harbour

Hague, June 30. We have received the following Particulars of Major Scheiter's late successful Expedition. He crossed the Rhine at Bisslick, with 36 Horses, and burnt the French Magazines at Xarten which consisted of about 35,000 Rations of Hay and Straw, and 1400 Sacks of Oats. From thence he went to Soulbeck, and passed by Gueldren and Stralden, in his Way to Kakirchen and Ruremonde; but learning that Ruremonde was possessed by Austrian Troops, he went to Aersen, where he burnt a very great Magazine of Hay and Straw, which at a moderate Computation, consisted, at least, of a Million and a Half of Rations; and two Boats, having on board 4000 Sacks of Oats, which he cast into the Maas. Near Geldern he met 100 Carts with Forage, which he caused to be unloaded and burnt. From Aersen he took the Route of Gennep, and burnt the Magazine there, consisting of 100,000 Rations of Hay and Straw; and some Thousand Rations of Oats. In this Tour he made 16 Prisoners, whom he took along with him, besides a Serjeant and 18 Austrians, and 40 French Boatmen, whom, not being able to take with him, he left to the Magistrates of Stralen and Aersen, till his Return. He afterwards burnt four double Boats with Forage, and crossed the Rhine again at Loburg.

At Buderick there was a Regiment of French Cavalry with glandered Horses; they detached 150 Horsemen after him. Two Hundred Foot were sent after him, in three Detachments, from Wesel; but he happily escaped them. At Bockholt, a strong Party waited for him in his Return; but he made his Retreat, and escaped from them too.

He performed all this in 93 Hours Time.

By Letters from Westphalia we understand, that Prince Ferdinand's Head Quarters were, on the 26th at Soest, where his Highness had assembled his whole Army. The Prince of Soubise, who had marched by Bockum, and Dortmund, to Unna, was at the last of those Places on the 26th, when the two Armies were within a Day's March of each other. Marshal Broglio too was in Motion.

Every Thing continued in the same State in Saxony on the 23d Instant, and in Silesia on the 18th.

Minden, July 1. The French, to the Number of 40,000 Men, having made Dispositions for attacking, on different Sides, the Corps commanded by General Sporcken, near Warbourg, which was not above 12000 strong, the latter was obliged to give Way to superior Numbers: He directed his March to Reesen, and from thence to Steinheim, where he yet encamps. The French continue to advance. In the Skirmishes between the Light Troops of both Sides, the Allies made 70 Prisoners. Stockhausen's Corps, and the Regiment of Behr, have lost Part of their Baggage: The former encamps at Holzminden, covering the Magazine of Hoxter, which the Enemy have already fruitlesly attacked.

Neus, July 3. A Courier informs us, that Soubise's Army lay upon their Arms for three Days, expecting the Allies would attack them: But on the first Instant the Scene changed. The Allies received a Courier that Day, with Advice that the French had made themselves Masters of Warbourg, upon which they retreated. Soubise's Army is marching to Lipstadt, and Marshal Broglio's Army, which by the Conquest of Warbourg hath recovered the Key of the Country of Paderborn, will endeavour to get to the Weser before the Enemy. We hourly expect the Consequences of this Event.

Cleves, July 3. According to the last Advices from the Army under the Command of the Marshal Prince de Soubise, the Army of the Allies came to Werle the 27th of last Month, and encamped there: The next Day this Army moved in several Columns, one of which, consisting of between 4 and 5000 Men, passed the Roer. The 29th, Prince Ferdinand of Brunswick, and his Nephew the Hereditary Prince, spent good Part of the Day in viewing the French Army in the Neighbourhood of Unna; but finding it drawn up in Order of Battle, and in a Position too advantageous to be successfully attacked, they resolved to draw off their Troops towards Hamm. These Advices add, that as the French look on this Retreat as a Stratagem calculated to make them quit the advantageous Post they occupy, they keep a stricter Watch than before, and are preparing to give the Allies a warm Reception, in case the latter may pay them a Visit.

Brussels, July 5. This Morning we received Advice, that the Army commanded by Marshal Broglio, having passed the Dymel the 29th of last Month, Gen. Sporcken, who was encamped on the Eminences on the Left Side of that River, came to a Resolution to quit that advantageous Post; but though he made his Retreat with all possible Celerity, the French came up with his rear Guard, and pressed upon it so vigorously, that they made about 800 Prisoners, and also carried off 19 Pieces of Cannon, 400 Horses, and 170 Carts and Waggons.

Francfort, July 6. Letters from Bohemia advise, that a Body of 25,000 Russians have joined the Body of Austrians commanded by the Count de Bethlem in Upper Silesia.---Amsterdam Gazette.

Gros Glogau, July 5. On the 26th past, pursuant to an Order from the King to General Goltze, our Governor published by Sound of Trumpet and Kettle Drum, the News of the Conclusion of an offensive and defensive Alliance between his Prussian Majesty and the Ottoman Porte.

Hague, July 9. Our last Advices from the Allied Army are dated the 5th Inst. and import, that Prince Ferdinand of Brunswick, who after effecting his Junction with the Body of Troops under the Command of his Nephew the Hereditary Prince, had already made Part of the necessary Dispositions for giving a proper Reception to the Army of the Marshal Prince de Soubise, whom he supposed would come to attack him, and to this end remained 42 Hours in Order of Battle at the Head of his Camp, found himself under a Necessity, on Account of the Movements of Broglio's Army, to repass the River Lippe the first Inst. in the Night.

From the London Gazette.

St. James's, July 8. The King in Council was this Day pleased to appoint Tuesday the 22d Day of September next, for solemnizing his Coronation; and to order, that a Proclamation should be issued for notifying the same; as also for notifying, that his Majesty hath ordered a Commission to be passed under the Great Seal, constituting a Court of Claims, which Court is to hold their first Meeting in the Painted Chamber of his Majesty's Palace at Westminster, on Tuesday the 21st Day of this instant July.

LONDON.

June 30. It is now reported that the second Expedition is stopped.

In the Amsterdam Gazette, brought by this Day's Mail, to Town, we have a disagreeable Detail of the taking of all the English Forts on the Coasts of Sumatra, by the Conde and Expedition Frigates, under the Command of the Count d'Estain, Brigadier in the French King's Service.

The little Town of Kindlebruck in Saxony, was almost entirely reduced to Ashes on the 5th Instant, by the Carelessness of a Valet, who had set Fire there to a Barn. Out of 250 Houses, of which it was composed, 30 only are now in Being. No lives, however, have been lost.

Letters from Oporto assure us, that on the 6th of this Instant, the Inhabitants were much terrified with a violent Shock of an Earthquake, which shook down many Houses, and killed some of the Inhabitants.

July 4. We hear that all the Transports in the River are ordered round to Portsmouth with the utmost Expedition.

July 7. They write from Portsmouth, that greater Expedition was never used in fitting out a Fleet of Ships, than has been in fitting out the present, which waits only for sailing Orders.

July 9. We hear the Orders issued some Time ago for raising some Independent Companies of Foot, have, within these few Days, been countermanded.

From the LONDON GAZETTE Extraordinary.

At a Court at St. James's, July 8, 1761.

PRESENT.

His Royal Highness the Duke of York, Archbishop of Canterbury, Lord Chancellor, Lord President, Lord Privy Seal, Lord Chamberlain, Duke of Bolton, Duke of Leeds, Duke of Bedford, Duke of Rutland, Duke of Queensberry, Lord Great Chamberlain, Duke of Newcastle, Lord Steward, Earl of Huntingdon, Earl of Winchelsea, Earl of Sandwich, Earl of Shaftesbury, Earl of Holderness, Earl of Rochford, Earl of Albemarle, Earl of Godolphin, Earl of Cholmondeley, Earl of Kinnoul, Earl of Bute, Earl of Halifax, Earl of Waldegrave, Earl of Bath, Earl of Buckinghamshire, Earl of Powis, Earl of Harcourt, Earl Cornwallis, Earl of Hardwicke, Earl of Egmont, Earl of Thomond, Viscount Falmouth, Viscount Barrington, Viscount Bateman, Viscount Ligonier, Viscount Royston, Lord Berkeley of Stratton, Lord Sandys, Lord Anson, Lord Lyttleton, Lord Melcombe, Lord Grantham, Mr. Vice Chamberlain, Henry Legge, Esq; George Grenville, Esq; James Grenville, Esq; Mr. Secretary Pitt, Lord Chief Justice Willes, Master of the Rolls, Henry Fox, Esq; Charles Townshend, Esq; Robert Nugent, Esq; Wellibore Ellis, Esq; Sir Francis Dashwood.

His Majesty being this Day present in Council, was pleased to make the following Declaration, viz.

'HAVING nothing so much at Heart, as to procure the Welfare and Happiness of my People, and to render the same stable and permanent to Posterity, I have, ever since my Accession to the Throne, turned my Thoughts towards the Choice of a Princess for my Consort; and I now, with great Satisfaction, acquaint you, that, after the fullest Information, and mature Deliberation, I am come to a Resolution to demand in Marriage the Princess Charlotte of Mecklenburgh Strelitz; a Princess distinguished by every eminent Virtue and amiable Endowment; whose illustrious Line has constantly shewn the firmest Zeal for the Protestant Religion, and a particular Attachment to my Family. I have judged proper to communicate to you these my Intentions, in order that you may be fully apprised of a Matter so highly important to me, and to my Kingdoms; and which, I persuade myself, will be most acceptable to all my loving Subjects.'

Whereupon all the Privy-Counsellors present, made their humble Request to His Majesty, that this His Majesty's most gracious Declaration to them might be made publick; which His Majesty was pleased to order accordingly.

W. SHARPE.

The Princess Sophia Charlotte of Mecklenburgh Strelitz was 17 on the 16th of May last. Her eldest Brother, the reigning Duke, unmarried, was born May 5, 1738, and succeeded to the Estate in December 1752. Another Brother, Charles Frederick, aged 20, is a Major in the Hanoverian Service; a third Brother, Ernest Gottlob Arbert, is 19 the 2d of next Month. George Augustus, her youngest Brother, will be 13 the 16th of next Month. Her Sister, Princess Christiana Sophia Albertaina, will be 2 the 6th of December. Her Mother, Dowager of Duke Charles Lewis Frederick (who died May 4, 1752) is a Daughter of Duke Ernest Frederick of Saxe-Hildbourghausen, and was born in 1713.

The House of Mecklenburgh (which is derived from the Vandal Princes, who, joining with the Goths, struck Terror heretofore into the Roman Eagles, and carried their victorious Arms into Italy, Gaul and Spain) is divided into two Branches, the Descendants of Albeat and John, Sons of Henry Leo, Prince of the Vandals, who reigned in the Beginning of the 15th Century; and were received into the Number of the Estates of the Empire, where they have Seats in the College of Princes, by Charles IV. who began his Reign in 1347. They are distinguished by the Titles of Mecklenburgh-Schwerin, and Mechlenburgh-Strelitz, which they take from the Cities of their Residence. The Princes of this House were dispossessed of their Estates in the Beginning of the last Century, by the Emperor, who gave them to Walleistein a Silesian (who came to a miserable End) but replaced in 1631, by the victorious Arms of their Cousingerman, the Great Gustavus of Sweden. Their Country, which is about 100 Miles long, and 60 broad, lies in the Circle of Lower Saxony. It hath Holstein and Saxe-Lauenbourg on the West, the Baltick Sea on the North, Pomerania on the East, and Brandenburgh on the South. A German, who wrote in the last Century, remarks that the House of Mecklenburgh had had in Marriage, within less than 200 Years, six Daughters of Kings, and five of Electors. It is the Duke of Mecklenburgh-Schwerin whose Country is now smarting for his favouring the Enemies of Prussia.

LONDON.

July 10. We hear that in the Draught of the new Treaty of Peace between England and France, what Lands are to be understood by Canada and Louisiana, are pointed out in a most clear and precise Manner, by their Latitude and Longitude from Points, and not left to be determined afterwards, as the French shall think proper; but we find that this Precaution was not thought of in the Negociations at Utrecht, which Neglect occasioned all the Altercation and Bloodshead that hath since happened on Account of America.

Some private Letters from Paris import, that the Court having great Expectations of a speedy Visit from the British second Expedition Fleet on their Coast, had ordered all the Forces they could spare at this Time, to the several Parts and Places the most defenceless.

It is now pretty confidently said, that the principal Difference remaining to be adjusted between our Court and that of France, is, that the latter is labouring to make a separate Peace with Great-Britain, whilst our Court thinks it would be better to make a general one, and by that Means put a Stop to the Effusion of Christian Blood, which too probably will not be effected by a separate Peace.

It is said, that the Preliminaries for setting on Foot a Treaty of Peace at Augsbourg, between the several Powers at War, having been transmitted hither, the same are now under Consideration, so that it is expected a definitive Resolution will be taken in a few Days.

Vast Preparations are making for the Earl of Egremont's Appearance at the Congress. It is said he will be attended by Noblemen and other Persons of Distinction, to the Number of 200, on his Entrance into the City of Augsbourg.

Yesterday there was a numerous Court at St. James's, amongst which were several of the foreign Ministers, to compliment his Majesty on his intended Marriage.

The Yacht which sailed a few Weeks since, from Deptford, and brought over M. Boreel to England from Holland, it is said carried two Persons of Rank to Hamburgh, from whence they proceeded to Mecklenburgh, to execute a Commission of great Importance, the Result of which may now be easily guessed at.

We are now told, that the Marriage of His Majesty is to be on the 6th of September, and the Coronation on the 22d of the same Month.

July 11. By Letters from Belleisle we learn, that Commodore Keppel had received Advice, that 8 French Men of War and Frigates were at Rochfort, endeavouring to put to Sea; but that he had stationed his Fleet in such a Manner, as would prevent their Junction with those at Brest; when joined they were to sail to Martinico, for the Security of that Island.

It is said that the Solebay and Biddeford Men of War have fallen in with a Fleet of Prames, or flat-bottomed Boats, going from Dunkirk to Boulogne, some of which they took, and drove the rest ashore at Graveling. The French had 66 Men killed, and about as many wounded, with little or no Loss on our Side.

On Thursday the Earl of Harcourt waited on the King at St. James's, when, we hear, His Majesty was pleased to nominate his Lordship to conduct the Princess of Mecklenburgh Strelitz to England; and at the same Time to appoint him Master of the Horse to that Princess.

By a Letter from on board one of his Majesty's Ships off Brest, dated the Beginning of this Month, we are informed, that there are in Brest Water six Line of Battle Ships and three Frigates, apparently ready to sail; and that we have ten Ships of the Line and some Frigates, watching their Motions.

July 14. The freshest Advices from Francfort continue to assert, that the French in Germany have three great Points in View. The first to deliver the Bishoprick, in order to proceed to an Election, and to render Paderborn a Place of Arms; the Second, to penetrate into the Electorate of Hanover; and the Third, to march 40,000 Men into the Principality of Halberſtadt, to convince the Imperialiſts, that they are ready to concur in the utter Deſtruction of the King of Pruſſia.

Letters from Rochelle of the 6th paſt, adviſe, that on the 3d an Engliſh Fleet of 6 Ships, 3 Frigates, and 4 other Ships anchored within Cannon-ſhot of the Iſle of Aix; that they were employed in ſounding in the Neighbourhood of Rochelle, and the Iſles of Rhee and Oleron; that on the 5th a Dutch Ship left Rochelle, the Pilot of whom was examined by the Engliſh: At his Return he informed the Rochellers of their Strength, and that beſides the Ships above-mentioned, three more were ſtationed beyond the Iſle of Rhee; and they conclude with telling us, that they have in that Iſland ſix Battalions under the Chevalier d'Aulan, on whoſe Bravery and Prudence they can depend.

A Letter from Munſter, dated the 4th, mentions poſitively an Action between the Conjunct Army of the Allies and that of Prince Soubiſe, to the Advantage of the former, who are ſaid to have made 1420 French Priſoners on the Field of Battle.

His Pruſſian Majeſty is at preſent encamped in the Mountains, in order to have it the more in his Power to reinforce his Armies on the Frontiers of Poland in Pomerania and on the March of Brandenburgh; as a Delay of any Thing deciſive, for three Weeks, will, in the Opinion of the ableſt Politicians, extricate his Majeſty from moſt of his Difficulties, and turn them perhaps upon his hitherto implacable Enemies.

The Carolina Yatcht fell down the River this Day, or was expected ſo to do, to receive ſome grand Perſonages on board, going to the Court of Mecklenburgh: It is ſaid this will be followed in a Day or two by the Fubbs Yatcht, and that they will ſtop in the Downs.

The young Count de Bruhl and M. Cauterbach, Plenipotentiaries from the King of Poland, ſet out the 7th Inſt. from the Hague for the Congreſs at Augſbourg.

It is ſaid that the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Harcourt is to be with the Princeſs of Mecklenburgh on the 1ſt of Auguſt at fartheſt, and that he is to ſtay there two or three Days, and then ſet off with her Highneſs for England; after which the Marriage will be celebrated as ſoon as her Highneſs's Cloaths can be made.

Apartments, we hear, are ordered to be got ready in His Majeſty's Houſe at Greenwich, for the Reception of the Princeſs, upon her Arrival in England, till the Solemnization of the Matrimonial Rites.

A Letter from Ramſgate, dated July 11, ſays, 'We juſt now hear that two of our Cutters from the Downs, which were looking after the Enemy on the French Coaſt, fell in with a French Frigate, who ſunk one of them, and all the Crew were loſt; the other has got ſafe back again.'

Yeſterday the Heralds and Purſuivants at Arms, preceded by the King's Marſhalls Men, the Drums and Trumpets of His Majeſty's Houſhold, and a great Number of Conſtables, made Proclamation at Weſtminſter, Temple-Bar, and the Royal Exchange, that the King's Coronation would be ſolemnized the 22d of September next.

Since our Conqueſt of Canada, we are, in a great Meaſure, become the Furriers of Europe: And we can aſſure the Public, that large Commiſſions are ſent here from Flanders for Beaver, and various other Skins, to ſupply France, and other Parts, and that we even export this Produce of North-America to Ruſſia, as that Country conſumes more of ſome Kind of Skins, and of better Quality, than itſelf affords.

Lord Stormont, late Britiſh Miniſter at the Court of Warſaw, paſſed through Prague the 26th paſt, going as one of our Plenipotentiaries to the Congreſs at Augſbourg.

The Rt. Hon. Sir Joſeph Yorke arrived here Yeſterday from the Hague. We hear he will return back to Holland in a few Days, and proceed immediately from thence for the Congreſs at Augſbourg.

They write from Hamburgh of the 7th Inſt. that Count Peper, Meſſ. Gyllenburg de Nolchen, de Klenckauſtrom, and Secretary Eckman, paſſed through that Place from Stockholm, Plenipotentiaries from the Court of Sweden to the Congreſs at Augſbourg.

She alſo brought to a Veſſel bound to New-York, that had been taken and ranſomed, but on the Captain's producing the Ranſom Bill, ſhe was diſmiſſed, after having the above Men, and a Number of Priſoners, put on board her. This Privateer was ſeen by the above Men Yeſterday ſe'nnight, off Long-Iſland, and were deſigned for Egg-Harbour to Water, as they were in great want thereof. There were ſeveral Pilots on board the Privateer who were well acquainted with Coaſt, and intended to cruize there for ſome Time.

By Capt. Saunders from Faro we have Advice, that Capt. Porter, in an Engliſh 80 Gun Ship, had blocked up in Cadiz, for five Weeks, two French Men of War, viz. the Achilles, of 64 Guns, and the Buffoon, of 36: That at laſt they eſcaped, and, after being out about 12 Days, fell in with two Engliſh Men of War about the 16th of July, who ſunk the Buffoon, and took the Achilles, and carried her into Gibraltar.
